Graphic Design Specialist – With over a decade of professional experience as a graphic designer, I have developed a robust skill set in Photoshop and Illustrator, focusing on meeting the design, printing, and advertising needs of various businesses. In recent years, I took the initiative to establish my own design firm, dedicated to supporting local businesses with their branding and visual communication strategies. My passion for art and design drives my commitment to delivering innovative, tailored solutions that enhance client engagement and brand visibility. I thrive on the challenge of new projects and am eager to bring my creative expertise to your team.

Experience

2019 – PRESENT

Graphic Design & Project Management | Freelance | Atlanta, Georgia

Over the past few years, I established my own firm, Sam Soni, specializing in Graphic Design and Project Management. This venture has allowed me to leverage my expertise to achieve significant successes with local businesses. I offer a range of services, primarily focusing on remote and contract work, ensuring flexibility and tailored solutions to meet diverse business needs. My role involves not only creative design but also the effective management of projects from concept through completion, demonstrating a strong commitment to client satisfaction and high-quality deliverables.

MARCH 2016 – MAY 2019

Graphic Design Intern | Architect Studios | Atlanta, Georgia

During my tenure as a Graphic Design Intern at Architect Studios, I enhanced my design skills significantly while gaining valuable insight into the architecture industry. I was involved in creating both print and digital advertisements, contributing to various marketing campaigns. Additionally, I took on the responsibility of managing multiple projects, overseeing them from initiation to completion. This role provided me with comprehensive experience in applying graphic design principles in a professional business context, furthering my capabilities and industry knowledge.

SEPTEMBER 2015 – FEBRUARY 2016

Ticket Specialist (Remote) | Ticketmaster | West Hollywood, California

In my role as a Ticket Specialist at Ticketmaster, I provided dedicated phone support, offering customer service primarily focused on sales and general support. This remote position enabled me to refine my communication skills and enhance customer satisfaction by resolving inquiries efficiently. My responsibilities included handling customer issues, processing transactions, and ensuring a positive experience for all clients through effective problem-solving and service delivery.
